

Director's Notes

It has been such an honor to work with a group of such talented and hardworking individuals. I am so proud of everyone involved in this production for pulling together such a great show in a limited amount of time. I couldn't have asked for a more rewarding and fun project for my senior year!

Producer's Notes

I am so proud of the students involved in this production for their hard work, patience, and talent. We were able to pull off an incredible show fully run by students in such a short time frame! This would not have happened without the incredible dedication of all students involved, as well as the spectacular teachers and parent volunteers who made it all possible.

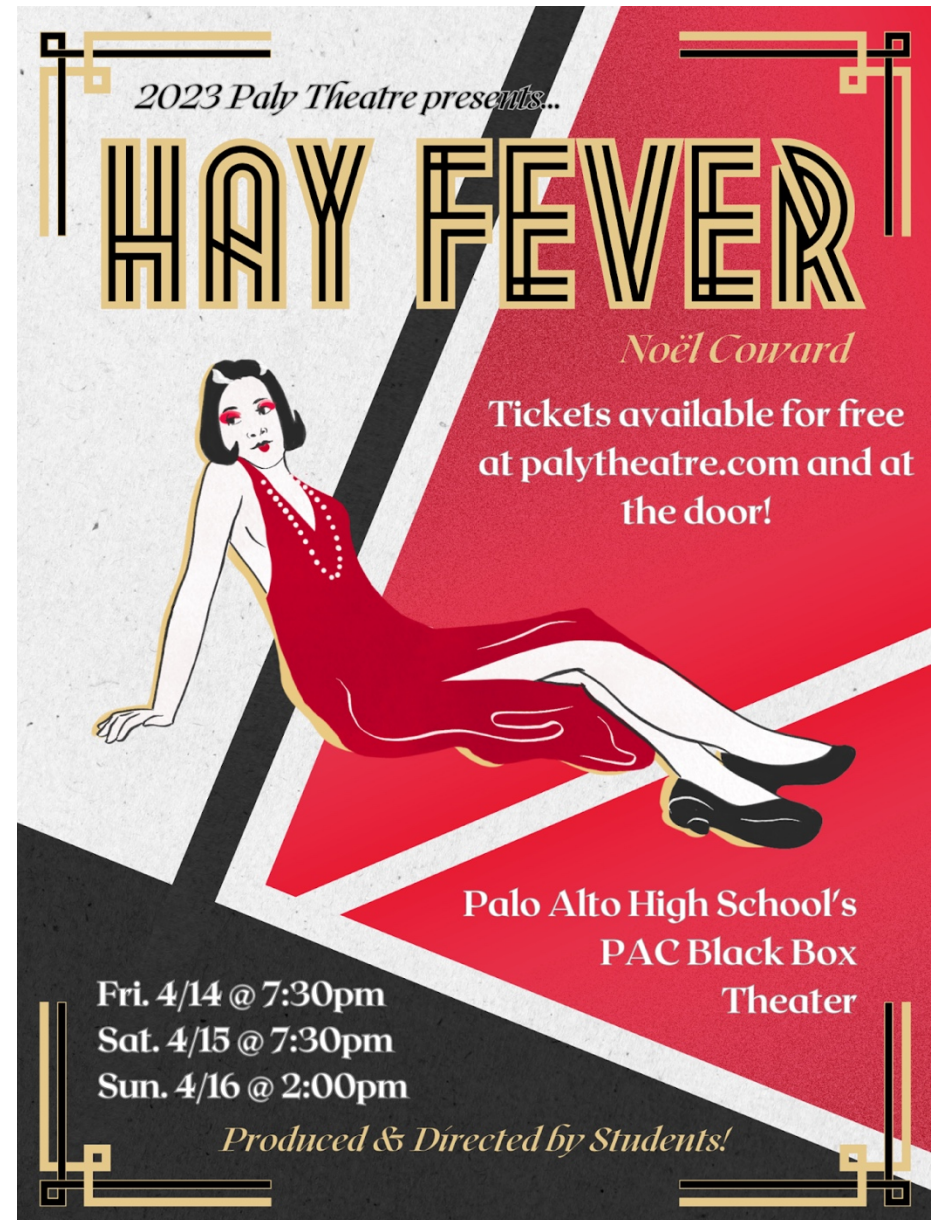

Hay Fever allowed me to experience theatre from the perspective of a producer, actor, and designer. It pushed me to grow as a leader and taught me valuable lessons in responsibility. Having the opportunity to be so involved in this production is something I will always be grateful for. I hope you enjoy the show!

Can't wait to get involved?

Paly Theatre is putting on one final show this year! A collection of student written, directed, and produced One Act plays will be performed May 12-14. Auditions are open to all Paly students and will be held April 18 and 19!
